ZOLA FILM PREMIERE HERE SUNDAY

Enroll Now For Laurel Camp

As the warm spring weather becomes the rule instead of the exception, the magnetism of the outdoors draws the youngsters out of their homes and happy thoughts of vacation time dwell in their minds. Many children will see their daydreams come true this summer in the healthy, invigorating atmosphere of Laurel Y Camp in the altitudes of Somerset County, where they will play and learn with their friends under the guiding hands of trained counselors. Those who are returning to this mountain site will find an improved camp, with a new, fully furnished playground and a reconditioned modern kitchen.

The Camp Committee has announced that there are still a few openings in all units for the first trip which leaves Sunday, June 24, and returns Friday, July 20; and there are openings in Units I and III for the second trip which leaves July 22 and returns August 17. Units I and II are for girls 10 and 11 years old, and 12 and 13 years old, respectively. Units III

START OF A NEW DAY AT LAUREL

Early morning wash-up time for campers at beautiful Laurel Y Camp in anticipation of an active and exciting day. This scene will be repeated many times during the coming camp season.

Luise Rainer Highlights UJF Women's Division

Academy award winner Luise Rainer will hold the spotlight this Thursday, May 10, at noon when the Women's Division of the 1951 United Jewish Fund drive caps the most successful effort in years with the seventh annual $52 and over luncheon which is expected to draw a capacity audience to the Schenley Hotel ballroom.

Miss Rainer, who won the motion picture industry's major accolade by capturing Oscars two years in a row and now starring on television, has undertaken to aid the national United Jewish Appeal campaign with a series of appearances in behalf of the current drive in major communities.

The announcement that Miss Rainer will appear at next Thursday's Annual Luncheon has stirred tremendous interest in the affair, and previous attendance records for the climax meeting are expected to be topped. Mrs. Milton K. Susman, chairman of the Women's Division, reports that the United Jewish Fund Women's Division effort is running more than three weeks ahead of last year in coverage and is maintaining an increased level on cards reported.

The Women's Division has reported well over $200,000 in pledges. Approximately 1800 cards, representing about $30,000, still must be covered by Women's Division campaigners.

BIG 'TEN' MARKS THE BOND DRIVE OPENING

Youth Ready to Elect Delegate

The Intermediates, Seniors, and Young Adults are enthused about the prospect of selecting their Youth Representative to the Board. This representative, a regular member of the Board, has an important responsibility in representing the views of the youth of the Y. Although the names of the three candidates to be selected from the three age divisions have not been announced, everyone is speculating and wondering who the nominees will be. In order that everyone will be completely informed, the names of the candidates will be announced in the Y Weekly.

Following the announcement of the three candidates by the Club Councils, a week, from May 6 to May 13, has been set aside so that the candidates might conduct their individual campaigns. At the close of this short period of electioneering, voting by club members will take place from Sunday, May 13, to Saturday, May 19, in Room 12 on the third floor of the Y. A ballot box will be placed in the club office during this week.

Seniors Dance At South Park

It's here! The DO-SE-DO SPREE, a barn dance social, will take place this Saturday evening, May 5, at the Community House in South Park. This affair is another of the many events sponsored by Senior Club Council.

Everyone is invited to "do-se-do", "allemande left", and "promenade" with their friends at the gala barn dance of the year. An exciting evening of square dancing, mixers, and social dancing has been planned for your enjoyment. Ben Zeligson, well-known barn dance caller, will help you get into the "swing" by calling those mixers and squares which will be easy and fun to do.

If you haven't purchased your tickets, there is still time. Although tickets for this jamboree are going fast, there are still a few which may be obtained at the affair. For a nominal fee, $1.50 per couple, you can have loads of fun eating (refreshments free), dancing, and meeting your friends.

Film Society To Close Season With "Nais"

The Foreign Film Society of the Y proudly presents the Pittsburgh premiere of Emile Zola's "Nais," this Sunday evening, at 8:15 p.m., in the Morris Kaufmann Memorial Auditorium on the ground floor of the Y.

The Foreign Film Society closes its successful season of foreign film showings with the offering of this great French film classic starring Fernandel under the direction of Marcel Pagnol. This adds another "first" to the Film Society's long list of premieres of important foreign films.

Emile Zola's great literary classic, "Nais Micoulin," comes to life in front of an authentic, rich background of Marseilles and the Provence. "Nais"—a great human expression and emotional experience—is top Zola brew of the vintage of "Nana" and "Germinal." Zola's insight and masterful portraiture is faithfully translated in this modern classic of French cinema art.

Fernandel, the great companion of Raimu, well remembered for his superb acting in "The Well Digger's Daughter" and other ranking French films, adds "Nais" to his list of great film portraits.

Marcel Pagnol, of "Harvest," "The Baker's Wife," "The Ways of Love," and most of the other great French films of the past fifteen years, in no way tarnishes his record as the number one film director of the world with his directorial performance on "Nais."

All offerings of the Foreign Film Society are open free to Y members and students registered in regular classes of the Isaac Seder Educational Center. All others are welcome for a registration fee of only fifty cents.

Camp Staff To Meet May 6

Bernard Scotch, Program Director of Laurel Y Children's Camp, has announced that the first in-city staff meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, May 6, at 2:00. All counselors, unit heads, senior counselors, water-front personnel, and the crafts instructor have been invited and are urged to attend this first gathering.

Working on the program for this meeting have been Alfred Dobrof, Camp Director; Bernard Liebovitz, Cy Cohen, unit heads; and Jay Garber, senior counselor.
