Mrs. E. Rauh:

Representing the Enoch Rauh Club, I wish to write to you about the club. In the first place we have ~~not~~ not done right in not writing to you and asking permission from you, but we have been so interested in the name that we have not stopped to ask for permission but anyway the club is so interested in the late Jewish councilman that we thought sure that there would ~~be~~ ^{be} no objections to that point, but we wish to play safe. I am hereby writing to you if there may be any objections in using your late husband's name. I think you will be interested to know that we are all Jewish boys, between the ages of (13 and 15 yr) thirteen and fifteen years. We held our first meeting at the home of one of our members. The meeting was soon called to order with twelve willing Jews gathered around the kitchen table, and to the mind of Mrs. Goodstien it was a grand scene. We elected a temporary chairman and soon the meeting was in full swing. Our temporary chairman gave us a speech on, "What the club is meant for," and in this speech he explained that we are out for both literary and athletics. The next important question was what shall we name our club and soon there was a number of names called out but none were suitable. Benjamin Goldstien suddenly called out the name of your ^{late} husband, Enoch Raub and the name was adopted unanimously. You can be sure, Mrs. Raub, that the club tenders its ~~regards~~ greatest regrets ~~with~~ to you and the club will always remember to keep above all others in literary and athletic pursuits. After voting on the name of Enoch Raub I felt pleased with the name of the club. The following committees ~~were appointed~~ and officers were elected:
