In Milan, Venice, & Florence I went with the group, and here also I saw an unusual show in Milan, in Italian, yet good dancing & singing.
Israel is a land of milk & honey. In Jerusalem I visited Y. M. C. A., an unusual building which is a landmark there, as people from everywhere come to their watch-tower (tallest in Jerusaalem) to see over the entire city, and it is a pretty sight.
Tel Aviv has many beautiful buildings, modern and otherwise.
The Convention was very successful. I visited a Dr's home, a dentist and

Dear Sisters.

It is 3 weeks since I left home, and have been touring Europe and Israel. I have felt fine, enjoying the vacation, and learning much about the different countries. In a group I find it is much easier to accomplish things as the arrangements, as meals, sightseeing, etc. are all prearranged. Yet I have seen much more by myself, as one can get places quicker alone than in a large group. In Paris besides the formal tours, I went on occasions to see for myself what the usual tourist doesn't get to see, as a Parisian cinema, an intimate nite club, and other interesting things. Then going to Switzerland was an unusual experience, as I had no reservation, and it is very busy at this time.
Riding the cable car alone up the Swiss Alps

At the swimming pool I was photographed with

Nazareth & Tiberias were very historical, but the last 2 days in Haifa were very complete, visiting the Technion Buildings, Dental Clinics, Kibbutzim, Mt.
Carmel (beautiful at night) and swimming in the my hotel (Zeon). It's been a very hectic trip, but I seem to weather it very nicely.

The plane is leaving tonight for Rome, which I expect to be very complete and fascinating. With the Dental Congress, sight-seeing, shopping, entertainment, and other diversions, I'm expecting a lousy time. Rome has everything they tell me, so I will try to include much - my last week. The opera, banquet, and other social functions are on the agenda. However, the group may take 2 or 3 days away from the city and go to Naples, Pompeii, Isle of Copri, etc.: I expect to make this trip alone, or with the group, as I may not get back here again. The weather is ideal. The food isn't bad. The customs and actions of the Europeans and Israel aren't too different from us, one can learn quick enough to adjust. The group on the whole is congenial, but each has his own failings. It won't be long now until we are all together again, and I thank you for the letters you sent.
