Handwritten text in Hebrew script, appearing to be a letter or document. The text is dense and covers most of the page, with some words and phrases being underlined or circled. The handwriting is cursive and somewhat difficult to decipher due to the style and ink bleed-through.

Handwritten text in Arabic script, likely a religious or philosophical treatise. The text is dense and covers most of the page. It includes various words and phrases, some of which are underlined or written in larger, bolder script. The word "Solam" is clearly visible in the upper middle section. The text appears to be a continuous flow of ideas, possibly a prayer or a discourse.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a concluding statement. It is written in a similar style to the main text but is less dense. It includes several lines of script, with some words appearing to be "Solam" and "Allah".
