

HAROLD J. RUTTENBERG
Maxon Towers 6315 Forbes Ave.
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
15217

HAROLD J. RUTTENBERG
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG.
EIGHTH AVE. AT WOOD ST.
PITTSBURGH 22, PA.

2/10/67

PHONE EXP. 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-0

Dear Libbie & Sam:

Sam's exhibiting boy is exhibiting for us while his red house defies gravity. Kitty has the invitation + I love the Harbor by Brickyard.
We leave, as I wrote, tomorrow for Geneva - Budapest - Prague +
Paris in Paris. Will try out THE BROTHER when we get back. — Green on Yellow price OK. Plan to go by Paley Station on way to town to look at THE BEGINNING again.

The painting in Bedroom that I inquired about is the one on common wall to Green on Yellow in adjoining room. Is it
THE HARBOR? Edwin

We now have a couple weeks of the 30's. My Brother is 1942, I believe. Please contact Dr. Witman as either one is equally to my liking and I would rather be relieved of having to decide between them if Dr. Witman releases me. These are from the father, as is Blue on Black in the hall.

THE HARBOR is mid sixties and eventually I want to get its equivalent I have in mind giving THE LEAF to our daughter-in-law, if she likes it. Shall be here in the spring for a last visit before her pregnancy restricts travel. Will handle Kitty on this after Rhoda sees +, and hope, like it. (Just had Sam's phone call) He answered my questions, which makes this merely a note of record of my interest in particular paintings.

We do want you both to visit as soon after we return as is convenient for you.
All our best,

Sincerely,
Harold J.