

The Pittsburgh Hebrew School

137 CRAWFORD STREET

Rabbi M. S. Sivitz, Principal

The Pittsburgh Hebrew School is the pioneer Talmud Torah of the city, founded by Rabbi M. S. Sivitz in 1886. The principal aim of the school is to inculcate the tenets of our holy faith to the Jewish youth of our community, in addition to teaching the higher branches of learning. The majority of the pupils are of poor parents, who could not afford to send their children to private schools for religious instruction. The doors of The Talmud Torah have and always will be open to the poor youth in our midst. This year the needs of the school are greater than ever.

Following the custom in the past the week preceding Shavoueth has been set aside as an opportune time for the many friends and well-wishers of The Talmud Torah to contribute toward the maintenance of the school. Rabbi Sivitz hopes that the Jewish community this year will nobly respond to this worthy cause.

Please send or mail your donation to Rabbi M. S. Sivitz, 1229 Epiphany Street.
