

Dec. 10, 1935

My dear Cousin Harry;

I'm sorry I didn't write before but I was unable to do so. My father has been ill on & off, but now he feels much better.

This isn't such a pleasant letter I'm writing - nothing but sad news.

Last Thursday my grandfather died unexpectedly. He had been ill - really ill, only for one day. It was a great shock & caused us a great deal of sorrow.

Perhaps some day
I may be able to avail myself of your invitation but at present it's impossible.

We are all about the same as usual & business is so-so.

That's all I can write about - my thinking apparatus isn't working.

Best regards to the entire family from
your cousin
Sylvia
and the rest of the Pitz
family
