Saturday May 19

I want to take the occasion to thank all my valued friends and customers for their continued patronage. My efforts in serving quality foods has been repaid by the popularity which my restaurant has obtained in the few scant years since I opened my place in Oakland.

In my new and larger restaurant, I have installed the finest and best fixtures so that I can serve you and yours better, and in more beautiful surroundings. I promise to give my customers service and foods second to none. Indeed I want to make Oakland proud of its newest food emporium, and will be glad to greet you all in person.
