

Programs to continue

To The Editor:

To the Greater Pittsburgh Jewish community, from the Western Pennsylvania Auxiliary for Exceptional People, it is with a great feeling of sorrow that we must inform everyone of the death of our beloved rabbi, Leib Heber. Rabbi Heber passed away in New York and is buried next to his wife in the land of Israel. We will all miss him very much.

We are glad, however, to assure you that the programs which Rabbi Heber began will indeed continue. We are fortunate now to have as our chaplain Rabbi Moshe Goldblum, who recently retired from Congregation Beth Shalom. Rabbi Goldblum and Rabbi Heber were very good friends, besides being colleagues, and we are confident that the Exceptional People will get to know and love Rabbi Goldblum and benefit greatly from his visits to them.

Our organization will continue to provide the funds which buy the salami sandwiches, cookies, and bananas which were Rabbi Heber's trademark. Your membership in the organization as well as any contributions you wish to make in memory of Rabbi Heber continue to be tax-deductible.

Your continued support of these vital services to our less fortunate brothers and sisters is much appreciated. We welcome your comments and suggestions during this period of transition. Please address your mail to: Western Pennsylvania Auxiliary for Exceptional People, 281 Sharon Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15221.

May Rabbi Heber's memory be a blessing to all of us.
