

Adler's Delicatessen

Fetes New Location

The grand opening of Adler's Delicatessen, now located at 2108 Murray Ave., will take place on Thurs., Fri., and Sat., May 26, 27 and 28.

George Adler and his son Sam, announce that they now have the newest and most complete delicatessen store to be introduced in Squirrel Hill.

Since 1919, the stated policy of Adler's has been to give the public the finest in both imported and domestic foods that were offered by manufacturers to satisfy the appetite of even the most particular.

The shelves are well-stocked and easily accessible. Many of the items displayed are self-service, and customers can browse freely in making their selections.

The store front is unique in design, decorated with a permanent floral display.

Many opening day specials will be offered. Adler's makes up party platters for any occasion and for years they have packed their pickled herring and pickles under their own trade name. Also on sale are their own home made chopped liver, knishes, and blintzes.

George and Sam Adler invite the public to visit them on these opening days. Free delivery is always available. Phone number is HA 1-0142.
