

Educationally Speaking

KAYRUV-VAN

Kayruv-van is a weekly program offered by the Jewish Education Institute which brings Judaic art, Hebrew music, Israeli dance and Jewish books to ten participating schools. Through this unique outreach program coordinated by the Jewish Teacher Resource Center, experienced specialists bring fun-filled lessons to children of all ages. Agnes Klein brings her expertise in the field of art with hands-on lessons structured around Jewish themes. Cherie Maharam uses her talent for folk dancing and her love of children to bring Israeli dancing to life. Beverly Steinberg teaches Jewish heritage and promotes Jewish identity through dance. Julie Harris' tremendous talents as a vocalist and musician are used to teach the songs of our People to our children. Renee Abrams uses the library experience as a time for the children to relate their Jewish education to the contents of a story. Laurie Eisenberg creates a program which brings Jewish history and Israel to our children.

Cherie Maharam
Dance Specialist

Julie Harris
Music Specialist

Renee Abrams
Library Specialist

Laurie Eisenberg
Israel Specialist

(Not pictured are Agnes Klein and Beverly Steinberg)

JEWISH EDUCATION INSTITUTE

6401 Forbes Ave., Pittsburgh, PA 15217 (412) 521-1100

Charles Perlow, President

Meyer S. Grinberg, Executive Director
Natalie S. Berman, Principal, CDS/SS

Zipora Gur, Educational Director
Patricia S. Feldman, Dean, SAJS