Dear Mrs. Horwitz:

The end of our hour together came far too quickly. The young people have so much they would like to know and understand. We have so much we would like to share with them. It is frustrating but moments such as we had in the Synagogue cannot help but make the days and years ahead much richer for our young people. We are looking forward to continuing our quest for understanding as Mr. Jaffe visits with us this week.

There has not been opportunity to do more than scan the armload of material you sent home with us. We are looking forward to an enjoyable time in the future as we study them more closely. If you feel that you need them before we finish, feel free to call. Otherwise we will plan on returning them after we have enjoyed them as much as time will allow.

Thank you for your interest in the young people and for giving the time to share something of your hertiage and fellowship.

Gratefully,

D. Douglas Whiting
