
New Synagogue to Be Dedicated In Oakland

The Congregation Anshe Lubovitz, which has been conducting Orthodox services at its synagogue on Erin Street for over twenty-five years, takes great pleasure in announcing the dedication of a new synagogue at 3223 Kennett Square, Oakland.

Opening exercises will be held Sunday, September 3, at 2:00 p. m. A beautiful program has been arranged by the Dedication Committee, under the co-chairmanship of Samuel L. Weiner and Nathan Katzen, assisted by William Weiner, Raphael Segal, Jerome Kitman, Morris Young, Harry Nisenbaum and Martin Rosenberg.

All members and friends of the Congregation Anshe Lubovitz are welcome to attend the dedication and are promised an enjoyable program, after which refreshments will be served.
