NOTE: We express our sincere thanks to those advertisers and contributors whose replies were not received in time for printing of this program.

There are so many good banks we have to be better.

At all banks, tellers should smile. Pens should work. Financial advice should be clear and competent. Lines should move quickly, even on payday. Statements should be easy to understand. Computers should speak English. Services should be designed for the convenience of the customers. Etc.

We feel we're doing pretty well right now. We offer good service and good services from all of our 97 branches. And we have more than half a million customers, most of them reasonably satisfied, which must mean we are doing pretty well for them.

We're trying a lot of things to be better. Drop in any time. Just to see how we're doing.
